Synopsis

Today the world is evolving and no masterpiece literature is being produced by the intellects. It's because the readers are not interested in the writing and the writers aren't interested in the reading. Has anyone in today's era written a very intriguing book, which should comprise a great aesthetic variety? The answer seems probably no.

Is there any reader who should be interested to read the biggest story of an adventurous and daring person who would even serve his life in the wake of dangerous circumstances? This story covers a brave boy’s unit who has lived for others and faced very strange behaviors and adventures.

At his young age he becomes the most intelligent and superhuman from just a simple and cowardly boy.

Chapter 1

There was Lina and Jennet sitting in their home and they got the news of their first brother who had just been born in the hospital. He was considered the most charming ever noticed by the doctors.
The kids were never aware that they had received a superhero as a brother. The boy was named Alif. He started speaking at the age of 3 months but was very much afraid of the world. It was a great wonder and people from all around the region would visit him. He had a strange shape of hair on his forehead. They were colored like the tail of the peacock. The world which was deserted due to the excessive industrialization was in a great need of an intelligent person who could provide strange theories to prevent the death of the remaining people. The government was focused on the new births because all of the previous generations were previously evaluated but no one out of them was having a special brain activity.

In order to protect the world, his mom decided to sacrifice his stay with them. It was known to her mom that this was the child the government was looking for as he was having the ability to work on complex equations even when he was only 1 year old.

The complete group of the unit which was specialized for finding this boy had arrived at their door.

Intelligence Chief: Please open the door.
Lina: Yes, what do you want sir?
Chief: I am looking for Alif. Your mom wants us to take him for a better future. You can think of him as admitted in a new school. Where he will grow so shaped that the superhuman term can be recognized.
Lina: I won't let you take my brother.
Chief: (Calls her Mom) Hi, Mrs. John, we are here on your request to move your child for better growth.
Mrs. John: Please tell your address to Lina, I will bring the kid to you by tomorrow at your location. Right now, I am abroad.
Chief: Sure.
Their mom had received the info that they were going to kill their child in order to make the medicine to make the world live again. The antivirus was only possible if his heart’s tissues from every part were increased through genetic engineering. It wasn't possible without his death. The mom had to decide if she would prevent the death of her kid or of the whole world.

Their dad was a very greedy man. He informs the authorities that he will provide them with the kid, and he demands 3 trillion dollars from the government. The government agrees to his deal. Mr. John calls.
John: Hi Lima (Mrs.John), I want you to come back home. The problem has been resolved. They have gone.

After his wife has come back with the kid, he calls the government to take the kid away and give him the money. The government comes and takes the kid away without paying a single penny. Mom starts to resist them. She was stabbed by the soldier. The dad was also killed when he said: If you don't give me my money, I am gonna publish all of you on the International Tube, a video site for preventing crimes by requesting the top agencies of the richest countries. Mr. John was lying dead on the ground without any support with three bullets in his head. Lina and Jennet were in the school. The boy was taken away and the kids came back home and saw no one was there and everything was as it was.
Jennet: Let's watch TV, as no one is home today.
Lina: Wait, I am bringing the snacks and the cold drinks.

They both sit together and enjoy the unknown murder of their parents by watching TV.

Lina: Please play the cartoon.

Jennet: I wanna watch a movie and that's final.

They fight for the remote unless they discover that there is some blood on the floor. It was cleaned from one side.
Lina: Let me call the police.
Calling
Jennet: Hi, I am calling from Street Wonder, there is some suspicious blood on the floor and my parents haven't come back from their office.
Police: Please wait while the police arrive.

They are all taken up to the secure place to help their brother who wasn't eating anything. They injected him to survive but it wasn't enough for them to get a good quality of cells from his heart.

Lina: Oh my brother Alif, I have been missing you so much.
Alif: There is nothing left to be said.
Jennet: Oh my little brother, don't be sad, I am here for you.
Alif didn't want them to know about the death of their parents. He remained silent on the incidents that had taken place.
Alif knew they were gonna ask a lot of questions and it would have increased the stress for all of them. Alif uses his magical powers and makes them sleep very fast.

They are both sleeping now on their beds through Alif's magic.

Alif hears a conversation between the chief and his secretary.

Chief: Mr. John was the biggest scientist of this world. I never wanted to kill him, but he was threatening me and I can't take such a huge risk from an international agency.

Secretary: Sir, we did right, because he has already created the magical boy by using his super scientific experiments.

Chief: I believe that this boy has got some powers as well because John had told me before the experiment that it will create a child with multiple super powers.

Secretary: It's all a lie, he is just a kid with an artificial heart that will produce a cure for the entire world and we will be able to earn.

Chief: You should be loyal so as to get a big reward at the end of the project.

Secretary: Sir, you already promised our scientist John a huge amount of money.

Chief: Yes, I did and I changed my mood and I never promised him not to change my mood.

Secretary: Do you promise to pay me my share at the end of it?

Chief: Yes.

Secretary: Then I have good news for you that the boy has got all of his cells recovered in his heart. The experiment can be done in an hour.

Chief: Guards!

Guards: (Speak together) Yes, Master.

Chief: Take the secretary out of my face and lock him away.

Guards: Yes, Sir.
They grab the secretary with brutal force to the prison. He shouts," I will kill you blood fool, you liar."

Chief to the other guards: Ask the operation team to start the process.

Alif has heard all and he uses his inborn knowledge to get invisibility and he makes his sisters run away out of a small magical hole. He follows them. They all reach a beautiful jungle full of trees and rivers. This place was not present in the world map.
He uses his powers to make a big palace hidden in the camouflage of trees.

They all make their own community of the animals. Alif uses his powers to make the Jungle prosperous with all kinds of fruits and vegetables. The prepared meat also grows on the trees. He transfers the languages into animals' brains.
They are all now able to speak with one another. In the jungle full of flowers they live as a family.

One day Jennet is happily moving in a sunny day between the colorful trees.

She meets a snake.
Snake: I wanna eat the meat but I can't reach it. That's the height. Can you please help me in reaching that height?
Jennet: Mr. Snake, we are very sorry because we were supposed to bring the food down. I will call Alif, he will do it.
Alif! Alif!
He comes through flying and lands near to her.

Alif: Why are you calling me?
Jennet: Look, our sweet snake has abandoned his tradition of hunting for our pure law. Now he needs to eat a bird that has been grown on the tree.
Alif: Here it comes. Eat it sweet snake, our loyal friend.

He makes a tree looking creature and gives it some powers.

Alif: Mrs. Tree, you will be responsible for solving the issues of the animals. In return you can enjoy our beautiful forest.

Tree: Thank you, master. I will always be loyal to my duties.

All the organisms of the forest are happy.

The sun shines limited so as to prevent the struggle. It has been possible due to the preventive dome of the Alif.

One day an animal with a lion's body and snake's face comes to the tree. It requests the tree to make its appointment with the great King Alif. The request is accepted and the Alif comes to the Lionake.

Lionake: I have come here from another world. We have a plague and we want you to help us with it. Your heart's cells are required for it. Otherwise, I have been ordered to kill you.

Alif: Turn into a small powerless kitten.

Lionake is no more a combination of lion and snake. It is a small kitten which is weeping.

The other animals and the trees start clapping for their master that he is brave and will make their peace maintained unless they are alive.

Alif: Turn back you cute little kitten.
Lionake: Please help us out. We can't kill you but can beg you. We are here to take your heart, otherwise we will all die.

Alif opens his chest and says:
Copy my precious heart three times
Here have come to you three lions
Two are late and one is sad
That our heart to them is late

Three hearts are produced from his original heart. The produced ones are also original. He gives one to the Lionake and the remaining two to the tree to store it in the belly.

Alif: Mrs. Tree, give it to the lions if they ask for my appointment.
Mrs. Tree: Always at your service my little king.

He flies away to his 60,000 feet big palace with the mountainous look and with a lot of trees on it as a camouflage.
His two sisters are free to move in the 20 million sq miles of the land along with all of the organisms.

Bacteria and plague were the only ones who were exiled to the other worlds.

One day Jennet was going on the way, and a big lion appeared to her from nowhere.
Lion: I know you are Jennet, the sister of King Alif. I am at your service and want to be your own guard for all of your life.
Jennet: You sound good, can I have your ride?
The lion opens his brown big feathers.
Lion: Please have a seat Jennet.
Jennet: Sure, my loyal friend.

The Lion flies at an electric speed and reaches the heights of the sky. Jennet is feeling as if she was in a beautiful dream where all of her wishes were fulfilled.

Jennet: Go that way, go this way.
The golden big lion follows her direction.
Lion: I feel hungry.
Jennet: Let's go to our place through the hidden and magical path.
Lion: Let's fly that way.

They reach the palace’s border and Jennet says some magical words.

Jennet: Open Alif's palace in white.
Lion: Wow, I haven't imagined a city made of gold, diamonds and pearls.
Jennet: This is nothing but just a small entrance. Go and see the internal part of it and eat all you want. I am going to bed. You can say these magical words to appear in front of me in a second.

Lion: I am really thankful for your blessings Jennet.
Jennet: You don't need to thank me, my loyal friend.
Alif and Lina are sitting in the dining hall and 10 years have passed. Now the place is filled with humans and all of those who follow the law of happiness. Those who commit a crime are sent back to earth with a spell that they forget this place and can't be welcomed in forever.

They all have enjoyments of scenery, flights, food, fruits, stresslessness, and the fastest level of internet that serves as a one way connection to the internal world.
They are able to see the outer world through the internet but the outer world has no access to know anything about the internal world.

Lina: I want to go back to my external world to live in the same old house like a real human being. I really want it.
Alif: If you are insisting so much then we can go with some of our loyal friends disguised in human bodies to serve us in the outer world. I will also provide them with the magical powers to protect everything for all of us.

They all are gathered in the ground and the lions are now humans which would be their knights.

Alif: Take us to the outer world of the first, plague and death.

They all find themselves in the old house. The good thing was the time. It was the same as when Alif was born.
Alif: Look, that is me, a newly born baby.

Lina: Mom and Dad are alive.
Jennet: Look, the officer has come to take out sweet brother and our father is resisting them. Alif, do something.
Alif: Let me give you a wonder, forget all that you remember and turn into the mad guys. All of the enforcement including the chief have become mad. They are later on admitted in the hospital of mentally ill people.

John: Hi Chief, where is the payment?
Chief: I wanna play, haha, I wanna play.

John being an expert scientist understands that he and his team have lost their memory.

John calls to the main office, which is fully luxurious.

John: Send an ambulance of mental people and let's lock these sicks away, Mr. Secretary.

Secretary: Yes, our great scientist as you order.

Now the highest rank was of John and he was more than capable.

Retiming of the world happens and everything including the palace, Alif and the world they created and their sister and their lions etc are all extinguished. The good thing was that the world was now protected from the plague because the hearts given by Alif didn't disappear and were found by a cruise and were brought to humanity.

Now we are back to a more than 10 years old place where a beautiful family lives with a new born Alif.

Alif started going to school after a few years and they had a very happy family. Alif was very interested in his studies. He wanted to become a teacher. There was a school of magic, where Alif goes once.

He sees the people doing magic and Alif thinks that it was real magic. He also saw a big master of magical school who was very angry and would always beat the magicians. He would treat them like slaves. They would always obey him to live their lives as they were totally dependent on him.
The rabbit dances improperly and is noticed by the master.
Master: You fool, I will take out your skin, do it properly.
Alif recognizes his power for the first time after making the wall invisible. People were very busy, so they did not observe the wall.
Alif thought it was just a miracle or maybe he is really sick.

They were setting the stage for the performance of the circus. It wasn't easy and they were late.

Alif: I wish the time would stop and I could help them.

Everyone paused, including the watch.

Alif: Wow, how is this even possible? Let me see what changes I can make. Oh, I am weak to all of it on my own. I hope that all of this turns into the right stage.

Everything starts flying and the stage is fully decorated without any effort.

Alif: Time, can you please resume. Memory, can you please make them remember that they had set the stage.

Master: Finally, we have been able to set the stage at the right time.

The master had a hidden truth of a huge loan from everyone and was under stress.

The loan lord came as the master wasn't able to pay the installments on time.
The master sees them coming.

Master: Hi Jeffrey, I am just working on your payment.
Jeffrey: You don't need to worry my dear friend. We have had a contract and based on that I can take all of your animals to my slaughter house. There is a big party going on and they have ordered a variety of animals that you are having.
Master: They are like a family to me and I won't let you take them.

They started arguing unless Jeffrey went so crazy that he took out his gun to shoot the master.

Alif was watching all of this in front of him.
Alif: Jeffrey, stop! or face the consequences.

Jeffrey: Haha, you fool kid. Guard through him.
Alif: How dare you, I am gonna give you a last warning to run away.
Jeffrey shouts in anger.
Jeffrey: Guard, why haven't you thrown him out.
Alif's magical powers have made him remember everything of his adventure and the true nature of his power due to the stress on his brain.
Alif: Haha, now I will show you the real lesson.
Alif picks them up through their neck by using his magical force and melts his weapon.

All of them were shocked.
Jeffrey: You are a demon, in the name of … I ask you to run away.
Alif slaps him.
Alif: you stupid little fool. I am a super human, not a demon. I will give you the wealth and give me the contract that you made with him in return.
Jeffrey: I am so sorry, I just went crazy.
Alif gives him double of his amount using his magical powers to create the gold.
They are all happy now. The contract has been abolished.
Jeffrey: I am very happy because of you honoring my old loan of the circus master.
I want you to make you visit the beauty of Pakistan, where there are forests and Amazon places to be adventured. I went there last time but I think it will be more fun with you.

Alif: But I will bring my family as well.
Jeffrey: Of course, you can bring all you want to.

Sunday came, when they were to go on a visit. Due to recent strikes, all of the flights were cancelled. They were all worried about what to do?

Alif uses his powers to create a door and they all were surprised except the Jeffrey.
They all go in and enter Murree.

They felt a strong cold and asked for the coats.
Alif: Take these (using his powers).
They all thanked Alif and his mom inquired him about the powers and informed him about their grandfather who was also a superhuman.

Alif: Wow, mom, I am really impressed by our grandfather's story.
Mom: Everyone is and I am happy to see his abilities in you.
Alif understands that his powers weren't artificial but it was the real hierarchy of their family.

They saw the beautiful green mountains and they were surprised to see the green trees in the winter. The heavy snow started and it was the month of December. They rent a home in the Kashmiri Bazaar located in the Murree near to the military camp.
They live like a normal family and enjoy the very sudden nature of the weather. The beauty of Murree was associated with its natural environment instead of industrialization. Everything was well maintained. The wild forest was filled with natural treasures and fruits. The fog was really heavy and the natural water was coming from the big stones in the mountains. He was really happy to see that such a place still exists in this world.

They were so inspired that they decided to live here forever. They weren't having much money to buy the property and make lifelong living possible.

Jeffrey: Mr. John, I can see you are worried about the management as you don't want to go to the polluted industrialized regions. I can help you with that. You just need to ask the Alif to make 10 kg of gold for you. I can make them converted into real currency as I have strong connections to my best friends here.

John: Alif, please come here.
Alif: Yes, Dad?
John: Are you able to make gold?
Alif: No Dad, I can just convert stones into pure gold but only twice a year.

They all go into the hiking tract and collect 30 kg of all stones and place them in a single object. Alif uses his last gold conversion ability to make it happen.
They get a half billion Pakistani rupees for it.
Mr. John buys the properties in Murree, Lahore, Peshawar, Swat, Karachi, Quetta and Islamabad. He also creates a big business and saves his remaining funds in his bank account.

Lina, Jennet and their Mom kept on enjoying the world.

Lina, Jennet and Alif started going to the school. They were really happy to find the new school near the MCM, where they were able to have new friends and good teachers. They all come to home and explain how their school was so good, caring and academic.
Mom: I am happy to find you all in good shape. I hope that spring is gonna come soon and you will have to work really hard.
The school closes at the end of December, so they were all able to clear the exams and go for the new trips in the summer.

Mr. John called and informed them to get ready as he was coming back from his business trip which he did to Islamabad.

John: I have got gifts for all of you and 50 small plants which will be grown by us in our garden. After a few years, our home will look more green.

He lectures them to save the environment at any cost to leave the happiness for your next generation.

After 5 more years, when Alif is mature enough to take the responsibilities, all of his superpower is lost. He becomes a normal boy and their family is now a normal family. The new life and the new journey of Alif starts from here as Alif always wanted to be a normal boy. He always wanted to feel how a normal person lives his life. Alif moves on a business trip to Balochistan. On the way the road gets blocked near Kila Safiullah.

Alif moves to a person and asks him the reason.

Alif: Dear brother, why are the roads blocked?

Person: Two people were shot dead and they are now on the way to reach Quetta. It is where they belong from. Have you heard of it?

Alif: It's my first visit to this region.

Person: You need to be careful because there have been many wrong happenings such as bomb blasts and other separatist movements. It all started after the USA asked Pakistan to help them in the war on terror. They intervened in the local matters and the hidden contractors of the CIA killed many innocent locals. It has resulted in the locals declaring the military a strong enemy in many regions of Pakistan such as FATA, Balochistan, Central Sindh and also in the South Punjab.

Alif: Have you ever witnessed a bomb blast?

Person: Once I was out in the night and I heard big blasts. When I focused, there were aches on the back. I was lucky to survive. Another time, the bomb got blasted when I was in the exact location of it. I didn't get hurt but lost my mind and started running to the exact location of the blast.

My ears weren't working. Thanks to a humble police man who ran after me and grabbed me out of that location. It was just two minutes after which a series of bombs started getting blasted. There were just hands and heads. I saw one of the heads which was blown high in the sky and it hit the ground so badly. If you are going there then remember to avoid the crowded places and meeting the strangers in the wrong location. Otherwise they will take you to the mountains and will make you drunk in order to covert you to a perfect suicide bomber. Be careful friend, be careful.
Alif: I am thankful to you my dear brother.
Person: Khudai pa aman. (May God protect you)
Alif is dying of hunger at 2 a.m. in the night. After waiting 2 hours he reached Quetta at 4 O'clock. He was dying of the cold and dry atmosphere. He never expected it. He was in the normal summer dress.
Alif: O you! When are the hotels gonna open?
Stranger: Probably at 8 a.m. in the morning.
Alif: Okay, then I am gonna sit on the side track.
Alif sits there and waits for the morning to happen. He has head down on his folded arms and feet. The good thing was that he wasn't aware of the danger in the night and he didn't see it.
Finally in the morning he goes to the shining Russia market, which was filled with the non-custom items. He wasn't that happy as he was really restless.

Shopkeeper: Hello brother, please come and see the deals. Only for you, I am gonna give you the discount on these items and they are really expensive in the other shops.
Alif: Thanks for being generous but what's the price of this laptop?
Shopkeeper: It's just 100,000 PKR.
Alif: Okay book 20 pieces of this model.
Alif feels thirsty and goes out. On the way he observes the same item.
Shop keeper 2: What do you want?
Alif: what's the price of this piece?
Shop keeper: It's only 5000.
Alif understands that the market is filled with fraud and he needs to do his own market research. After doing research he gets the number of a contractor from Chaman. He gets the train to reach the Chaman in no time.
Chaman has got many dealers who were providing many items at no cost.
On the way back the car was stopped by a group of bikers. He was taken under control by making him unconscious with a strong anesthesia.
Biker: Gadi ta a warwacho. (Enter him into the car)
Alif: Oh, where am I?
He opens his eyes a bit and sees a dead police officer of Pakistan. They were both taken to Afghanistan. The borders were big and unprotected which made the entry convenient. A group of Afghan soldiers stopped them and asked them what was inside the package as they had left the car and were moving the material on donkeys and camels. It's a material of smuggling.

Soldier: Where is the money?
Biker: Take it, it's 200$.
Soldier: Go and don't show me your face again.
They all move on and the news of a Pakistani police officer is shared with the Pakistani media. The body was left open in the streets of Afghanistan. With diplomatic ties the body is sent back.
Alif has been fit into the ground and the only thing out is his head without a neck.
A man brings a bit of metal near to him.
Man: let's give you a brand, you idiot!
Alif: Oh, stop please.
Alif screams and the scar is stamped on his beautiful face unless the metal touches the bone.
Other men drink and enjoy the show. On the other hand, the mom of Alif is crying all day for him. His siblings have lost interest in their lives. Alif was the only brother and son they have had.
This group sells him to the Afghan militants and he tells them about his Willingness to serve the militants' mission. They are happy with him and assign him the task for killing the innocent civilians in Pakistan. It was because Pakistan was serving the USA. They considered Pakistan a disbeliever country who deserves to be punished. Finally, he informs his father that he is in Chaman and needs to be secured. He has been taken away by the friends of his father in the Chaman. Alif comes to know that such a thing has also happened to thousands of other kids including the sons of the senior ranked Pakistan politicians and businessmen. Terrorists try to demand funds from their parents or sell them to continue terrorism. It's a way of earning under the sacred banner of Islam. Islam has got no connection with them as it is the religion of peace.

Alif comes back to his place and joins the military as an officer.

He was given the title of Badar on the name of the first ever battle fought by the Muslim leaders to prevail the peace against the brutals of that time.

Soon he enters the special services and gets posted to Quetta, Balochistan on a mission. He goes forward to take the briefings from the intelligence.

Intelligence officer: This location which you can see is occupied with the terrorists. Please go and clear it.

Badar: Sure, but let me lead the operation on my own.

Badar orders the helicopter and a strong squad. They land on the target through paragliding at midnight.

The group is divided into two by the Badar.

He asks a group to watch on the camp and the other to sleep for half of the time.

In the morning he takes a shield and gets into the place.
Badar: Come out, otherwise I am gonna shoot you. Where are the guns?
They have come out but they are found innocent.
Badar: Close their eyes and shoot one of them.
One is shot and the others are praying to God by saying that," Nobody is worthy of worship except Allah and Muhammad PBUH is his messenger."
Badar shoots another and after screaming there is no sound.
The third one is laid down and Badar asks for the knife.
Badar: Let me cut his throat.
Badar moves his knife on his throat with the wrong and smooth side.
Man: May Allah forgive me and he is the only to be worshipped and Muhammad PBUH is his messenger.
Badar hasn't killed anyone in reality. He sends them for internal investigation along with the report that they are all innocents.
Intelligence officer: What happened about the mission.
Badar: Were you sure the terrorists?
Intelligence Officer: I am not sure if they were having a stick or a weapon.
Badar: And you sent me to kill them, if I had killed them, I wouldn't have been able to sleep my entire life.
The officer makes himself hidden after the Badar denies his offer of joining them.

Badar goes on a leave to go home.
Lina: Mom, a military officer has come.
Mrs. John: Why are you here?
Alif: Come on, Mom, I am your only son.
Mom hugs him and gets proud of him after knowing that he is Badar who has served the nation even when he was deluded.

Alif: Mom, I am a pure Muslim and you know Islam is a religion of peace. I won't force you to accept what I do but I can tell you about it. Islam has haramed the force conversion, it talks about the one Allah and it says Jesus was the prophet of Allah like Ibrahim, Moses and Muhammad PBUH.
Mom: Yes, I also believe that there is one God and Jesus was here to guide humanity. That's how all would be able to reach heaven. Some Christians have mixed monotheism with polytheism. I also believe that all of the Ibrahimic religions are true but it is only Christianity which has rejected monotheism. The oldest Christian books still advocate monotheism and our gospel has many evidences of it. The church rule destroyed the reality which provided indulgences, I mean tickets to heaven for price, burnt many alive and owned 33 percent of the land. They also provided service to the kings and said kings have a Divine right to rule the world. King Henry also created his own church of protestantism to bring the people under his complete control in England. Canterbury is still famous for it.

Alif: It means you are already a Muslim. All you need is to read the Quran as it will allow you to see the reality and after that you can believe in the teachings of Muhammad PBUH, which is completely based on a single religion as was taught by Ibrahim, Moses, Jesus and by all of his messengers. They have all guided nothing except to worship a single Allah and to stop doing the corruption.
Mrs. John: I am really proud of you, my son. Indeed, I am equally proud of my daughters who have proved their morality by creating big NGOs to help the poor get fed.
Mrs. John: I will soon leave you alone in this world but always remember that we will reunite in the end as always.

Chapter 2

The time goes on, and nothing remains. All the non-renewable energy has been consumed. The gunpowder is no more. A certain chemical reaction decreases the half-life of uranium, and the atomic bomb gets diffused. Now the world is without energy. Renewable energy was dependent on non-renewable energy. So there are no more advancements except that the structure remains.

Alif talks to his sister in these circumstances, and their parents have passed away a long time ago.

Alif: I am going for sword training as a trainer. I will have to train the new army with the new trends of this energy-barren world. The buildings are taller than ever, but the fire has lit the world. It's horrible and horrible!
Lina: It's okay, you can go, as my soon-husband is gonna come soon.
Alif: I may not be here for a long time, but take care of my black horse. You can ride it if you want to. He is really a nice guy.
Lina: Thanks, brother.

Alif takes his sword and horse and runs away toward destiny.

Soldier: Commander! Commander!
Alif: Why are you afraid so much?
Soldier: The dark horse messenger has sent the news that we will soon be attacked by 200,000 horsemen, and they are coming from the west. They are attacking us because Pakistan has got the treasure of trees and animals. After their energy has been lost, they haven't been able to live properly. They have united to attack our golden land, where we have worked all our lives to grow plants and animals.

Alif: Send my message to the colonels who are serving under my brigade to make the horses, camels, and elephants ready. We will attack them before they can reach our land. It will look like an aggressive attack.
Soldier: Yes, sir.

The soldier goes away, and the good thing is that they didn't need to verify the news as they were all trustable and were very strongly familiar with each other.
They have known that the buildings won't be able to stop the enemies. Alif sends the messenger to the king of the Pakistani kingdom that the enemies are on the way to attack. He further informs him about the help he requires.

Alif: Dear King, I hope you are all in comfort. Our king, the surrounding kingdoms have attacked us, and your throne is in danger. Allow me to proceed before they can proceed on us. I won't stop sacrificing my life for the beauty of this kingdom. Our green kingdom with our green flag should remain. My king, I will be waiting for your additional help and for your sweet efforts to convince the Afghan and Iran to help us fight the opposite. I know our relation to them is wrong, but brothers always help in the end.

Now the army is ready with swords and animals. Alif orders the senior colonels to ask the ration master to provide enough food to each soldier.

Alif: After the final check, give me a signal to advance.
Messenger: Commander! A message from our dear king.
Alif: Good job, my lion messenger.

He hands over the message after getting down from the horse with respect.

Alif: Oo! Our dear king has accepted our request and has promised an iron will in meeting our demands.
Colonel: Commander, the check has been completed.

Alif shouts louder than ever; he hasn't uttered such a great sound before.

Alif: My dear military, we were born to live with honor and to die with honor. We live to protect and die to protect. We have a life here and a life hereafter. Death is more dear to us than life to us. Let us kill the brute men, and let's kill these machines. Let's build greenery and a green history. The world will remember you, and the fight will remember you. We have lived with dignity, and let's die with eyes up. March, march, attack!
Military: Attack, attack, death, death, freedom, freedom.

The forces move onward to the battleground.

A Day of Battle

“The rain is fast and the cold is cost.
Will they win or they be lost?
Will they die or they be tossed?
Will they feel or they be kneel?
Will they write or they be written?
Questions four and answer tore.
No beauty no death.
Principle's been set.
The thunder loud,
Big the crowd.
War, war and war!
The war ends with Alif lost.
This was the cost.
They were tossed.
Kneel didn't they, but they dead.”

A shining rain hits the heart of Alif. The heart gets a strong golden shine. Alif stands up with his superpowers and recovers all of his injuries. Now he's able to fly as well. He flies toward the enemies and asks them to stop. The leader of the military was from the west. He was that intelligence chief who tried to kill Alif when he was young.

Alif: You son of a devil, you are still alive.
Chief: Kid, get away from the path, or I will eat your dish tonight. Soldier, cut his throat and fill this cup with his blood.

The soldier tries to attack Alif with his sharp shiny sword. Alif moves with the flash's speed. The sun was rising, and Alif attacked them with the power from the sun. Using his superpowers, he attacks them with the fire of the sun. They are all turned into ashes except the chief, who was wearing a strong suit. Alif removes the protective suit of the chief and takes him back to the king.

The king knows about the complete force of Alif, who has been killed. He is really intrigued by his super ability of killing the entire force alone. He makes him the king, and the chief is life-imprisoned to show him as a warning to the remaining kingdoms.

Alif marries the intelligent and brave daughter of the king, who becomes the queen. The major issue was that they were in need of energy. Alif makes a great plan along with his wife. They are both good-looking and a perfect couple. They often laugh, and their optimistic nature moves them towards happiness.

Alif flies in the night and puts all of his efforts to bring a great amount of energy from the sun into the machine made by his intelligent wife. The experiment goes successfully. They move this power cell to be connected to the electric lines. The cars were all transformed into electric cars, and the natural electricity was now being used by the complete kingdom. The surrounding kingdoms offer them big amounts in return for the energy. They provide them with the energy but take away their sovereignty, which proves very good for the surrounding kingdoms as they were under the rule of corrupt leaders.

“O happiness! where were you
Many died without you
Many were killed unborn
Many were burnt in the desert
Many were blown in the Middle East”

Happiness was seen by many but wasn't by many.

Old Lady: Alif, I am happy that I got you here, but I am not happy.
Alif: I have come here to know the reason, as you are the only one unhappy.
Old Lady: Death has undone many, and I have lost four sons with you who were killed.
I need them all back.

She cries silently, with huge pain shown on her face.
Alif can't make the humans alive, nor can he go into the past now. He shows a very good scene to the lady where her sons enjoy heaven.

Old Lady: She prays and dies and moves towards her kids.

Alif feels very sad for her, but he is happy about her union with the kids.
Alif goes back in an electric car to his palace.

Chapter 3

The time goes on, and the kids of King Alif and Queen Vanessa are born. The entire human race and the entire kingdom of animals come to see the kids of Alif on their birth. The union of humans and animals was only possible due to Alif's way of providing food with the new methods that don't require hunting. The kingdom was filled with the beautiful smell of the flowers and perfumes. It felt like heaven on earth.

Alif has named his kids Romi and Julie.
It is because of his love for the stories.
One day, the kids wake up on Saturday.

Romi: I am going to the park with beautiful swings and grass. The sky is going to shine with the sun soon, and before it happens, I will be back. My dear waiter, I need a good amount of food with multiple varieties on the table before I come back for breakfast.

Waiter: As you wish, my little king.

The waiter smiles at the small Romi as he gives orders like a real king.
Julie shouts from the back.

Julie: Stop, I also want to go with you.

Julie goes on her bicycle. Alif sees her catching a cycle and takes his blue cycle as well. They were both neat and fresh like a fresh rose.
They both go out and see a black dog, Bella. It belongs to one of the officers in their kingdom. They play with her as she has long black hair and long black ears. Then they see that the peacock of one of the colonels runs away from their home.

Romi: Julie, come, let's follow the peacock.

They try their best to catch the beautiful, colorful peacock, but they fail to do it.
The peacock spreads its beautiful tail, and they love it.

Julie: Wow, it has got 100 eyes.
Romi: It's just a shiny tail, not eyes.
Julie: But it looks like 100 eyes.

They go back and have breakfast. After that, they watch the Chhota Bheem cartoon on their TV. It is now 12 o’clock.
Julie takes her cycle and goes to the military canteen store.
This time Romi follows her.
They go out and observe an amazing scene. An officer with a gun follows the dogs.

Romi: Let's follow him.

The officer is a hunter and kills the dogs.

Romi: Officer, why are you killing these innocent dogs?

Officer: They bite the kids, and two days back, they took my hens. Furthermore, I have the art of hunting.
Julie: It's not a good thing.
Romi: It's good, as I will be able to go out late at night. I can't go to the market just because of these dogs.
Julie: But we have everything inside.
Romi: I love nature, and especially the night when there are lights on the road and when the trees are moving with the breeze.

They go back home and have lunch.
It's now 1:30 PM. They see the kids outside who are finding something.

Julie: What are you trying to find?
Kid: We are finding mushrooms. Those which are black are poisonous, and white ones are perfectly good.
Julie: Let me find them too in the green grass, but they are really sharp.

In Bahawalnagar, all this sharp grass grows.
Romi and Julie collect a good amount of mushrooms, and they go back.
The sun comes and goes on, and there are the signs for those who focus. They enjoy their privileged life because of the blood of their father, which has been spilled many times, and because of the bravery of their father, which has been tested many times.

The privilege always requires a hero. It can be the parental generations or the present generations of humanity striving to bring happiness. It has always remained temporary and can be permanent if you can fight continuously.
